

The Austin Jewish Film Festival (AJFF) is now in its thirteenth exciting year. The 2015 Film Festival is scheduled from October 24-30 and will offer a potpourri of notable films, speakers, and panels that our patrons, sponsors and festival attendees have come to expect each year. We roll out the Red Carpet to one and all, as we attract a wide range of attendees from the Jewish and non-Jewish Central Texas community.

Cine Las Americas International Film Festival presents this film as a supporter of the AJFF.

God's Slave

Director: Joel Novoa • Venezuela, Argentina • 2013 • Thriller • 90 min. • Spanish (with subtitles)

Inspired by the 1994 bombing of a Jewish community center in Buenos Aires, Argentina, this film depicts the twists, turns, and dangers of political terrorism. Motivated by personal tragedies, two obsessive characters on both sides of the Arab-Israeli conflict are set on a collision course. Stationed in Caracas and operating undercover as a doctor, Ahmed Al Hassama is a young Kuwaiti militant who is slated to execute a terrorist attack. Dispatched to Buenos Aires to diffuse the imminent threat, David Goldberg is a cold-blooded and embittered Israeli Mossad agent who will stop at nothing to terminate the terrorist sleeper cell. Both men embark on parallel paths of martyrdom, blinded by hatred born of childhood trauma and prepared to sacrifice everything for their beliefs.

"An important film to see especially during today's climate. When there is no point of return from religious hatred and fanaticism, what are the choices?"

Contains Mature Themes, Violence and Nudity
